

Dear Partners,

The Université Saint-Louis Bruxelles is pleased to announce its 1st Academic Staff Week, which will be held from 11 to 17 of March 2019.

We consider this week as an excellent opportunity to share our knowledge and experience, promote the idea of internationalization and strengthen our international partnerships through meeting in person. All this within the framework of Erasmus+ Teaching Mobility Programme, where applicable.

Interested persons will be required to give a course to undergraduate students as well as a seminar or conference. Therefore we invite them to prepare the proposal of the course they will be asked to give. The teaching language will be either French or English.

There is no participation fee. However participants are expected to cover their own travel and living expenses (which can be done via Erasmus+ Program).

Deadline for application : November, 23th, 2018

To apply for the Academic Staff Week, please fill the following application form in and send it by email to : international@usaintlouis.be

For further information, feel free to contact us at international@usaintlouis.be

Confirmation of those selected and non-selected will be sent to all participants by e-mail on December 15th 2018.

Information about accommodation and the final programme will be sent only to selected participants. Please do not make any travel arrangements before your participation is confirmed.

To be sent by email to international@usaintlouis.be by November, 23th 2018 at the latest.
