Internship in Project Management

Do you believe that online gaming is a fascinating and extremely fast growing market? Does working with the best game developers on the most successful games published on all major social networks and browser game portals around the globe sound like an amazing job opportunity to you?

Then become a part of Plinga – Europe’s leading publisher of social online games with a history of more than 100 games published on more than 2,500 social networks and browser game portals, played by over 30 million users every month.

Join our truly international team in the vibrant capital of Germany - Berlin as an intern in Project Management.

What will you do?

- You will manage independently one or more of our latest game projects
- You will be the first point of contact for selected game developers and support them in the international roll out and further optimization of their games’ performance
- You will prepare presentations and market analyses
- You will assist in larger quantitative and qualitative analysis

What are your qualities?

- You are an enrolled student of Business Administration, Marketing, Communications or a related discipline
- You have a strong passion for games and your previous experience in the gaming industry is a clear advantage
- Your analytical skills are outstanding and you feel at ease with MS Office (Excel)
- You have strong initiative and great problem-solving capability
- You are highly motivated, work self-driven and you posses an entrepreneurial spirit
- You are a team player who enjoys working in small groups, has an international mind set and excellent English skills in speaking & writing

What do we offer?

- A paid internship for 6 months with access to an entry position in the gaming industry as one of the most versatile fields in the online world
- Explore your opportunities in one of Berlin’s start-ups, which is making waves in one of the most exciting industries that the new economy has to offer
- Flexible hours, a great atmosphere and working environment
- Benefit from a comprehensive training program to underpin your professional development
- Be in Berlin, Europe’s most fascinating city, with low cost of living and high quality of life

For more information about our job vacancies, go to: http://plinga.com/jobs

We look forward to your online application in English or German, including your cover letter, CV, relevant references, preferences with regards to your general availability and salary expectations.
Plinga GmbH
Human Resources
Lucia Gheorghita
Saarbrücker Str. 20/21
10405 Berlin

www.plinga.com
recruiting@plinga.com

Additional information:
Is it an Internship- fulltime